

Create Your Own Leather-bound Journal – Sunday April 22nd 10:00
with Michael Joyner

Keeping a journal is one of the best activities one can do to reflect on life's meanings, preserve the moments of time, or record observations for future reference. In this workshop, participants will create a personalized leather-bound journal. The front and back cover, along with the binding, will be shaped from leather and stitched together to make a one-of-a-kind creation. Finished product measures approximately 9" X 6".
